

Dear U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service,

The southern sea otters are a part of our heritage and deserve to live and flourish in our southern coastal waters.

Please halt relocation of the otters as it's proven to be unsuccessful; their dwindling numbers verify its failure.

Allow them to live where God intended for them to live, so that they may regain a healthy, thriving population.

The southern coast is home to these otters; let the fishing industry go someplace else or start creating harmless fish farms.

Please put their rights (the otter's) first. Those who enjoy and appreciate their presence in our waters would be extremely grateful.

Sincerely,
Clea Wright
